GLOSSARY

Audiovisual Media Domain	recorded and live audio or audiovisual content distributed through broadcast or digital platforms (e.g., television, radio, streaming, cinema).
Applied art	the application of aesthetic principles and artistic design to functional objects intended for practical or everyday use.
Artisan	a skilled individual who creates goods primarily by hand or with simple tools, drawing on traditional knowledge, techniques, and craftsmanship.
Artistic expression	the process of communicating ideas, emotions, experiences, and perspectives through various forms of art.
Craft production	the creation of goods by skilled artisans using manual techniques, either entirely by hand or with the assistance of simple tools or limited mechanical means, where the artisan's direct contribution remains the most substantial component of the finished product. Craft production emphasizes traditional skills, cultural knowledge, creativity, and small-scale production rather than mass industrial manufacturing.
Creative Industry	refers to the trades involving persons, whether natural or juridical, that produce cultural, artistic, and innovative goods and services originating in human creativity, skill, and talent and having a potential to create wealth and livelihood through the generation and utilization of intellectual property. Creative industries include those directly or indirectly involved in the creation, production and manufacturing, performance, broadcasting, communication and exhibition, or distribution and sale of works and other subject matter, in accordance with existing laws, rules and regulations on intellectual property rights protection (Republic Act 11904)
Creative Services Domain	refers to demand-driven, commercial creative services performed for clients, either as complete outputs or outsourced tasks. This includes advertising, marketing, creative R&D, cultural and recreational services, and live creative experiences, supported by technical and management services.

Creative work	an original product of human imagination and skill, typically in art, literature, music, or design-expresses unique ideas and is protected by intellectual property laws such as copyright
Cultural heritage	the legacy of tangible and intangible cultural resources inherited from past generations, maintained in the present, and transmitted to future generations. It includes monuments, buildings, sites, traditions, knowledge, skills, and artistic expressions that communities recognize as part of their cultural identity.
Digital Interactive Media Domain	refers to the digital software programs, applications, and games designed for interactive digital devices where user input is essential. Examples include video games, mobile apps, computer games, and virtual, augmented, or mixed reality content.
Intellectual Property	refers to creations of the mind, such as inventions; literary and artistic works; designs; and symbols, names, and images used in commerce
Industry Mapping	a systematic process of identifying and analyzing the key stakeholders, roles, relationships, networks, and structures within an industry to understand how its various sectors and participants interact and contribute to its development.
Function	the purpose or role of an artwork, such as communication, persuasion, ritual, documentation, memory, pleasure, worship, or self-expression.
Trade Secrets	confidential business information, processes, formulas, or practices that provide a competitive advantage and are kept secret to maintain their value. Trade secrets are protected through non-disclosure agreements and other security measures, rather than formal intellectual property laws like patents or copyrights.
Traditional art	artistic expressions that originate within a community and are transmitted from one generation to another, reflecting shared cultural identity, values, beliefs, and history.

Traditional Cultural

refers to both tangible and intangible expressions of traditional Filipino culture and heritage. This includes arts and crafts, gastronomy and culinary practices, cultural festivals, rituals, and other traditional customs and practices.

APPENDIX

Suggested Case Studies for IP Discussions

Dali Copyright Infringement Issue (2024)

Convenience Store DALI was recently accused of copyright infringement through their sale of products that closely resemble other, more established consumer brands. The controversy touches on the blurred lines between inspiration and exploitation in consumer markets, raising questions about intellectual property and originality in commerce.

Wolfgang Vinyl Reissue Issue vs Ivory Records (2024)

In 2024, Ivory Records announced a vinyl reissue of iconic rock band Wolfgang's music. Backlash arose when Wolfgang announced it would not be supporting the release because of unfair royalties and other concerns. This controversy highlights broader concerns in the local music industry about artist rights, copyright control, and the ethics of reissuing legacy content without full consent from original creators.

Hapag and La Paz Batchoy (2024)

The discussion around "Hapag" and La Paz Batchoy emerged after the release of a contemporary artwork or exhibit titled Hapag, which was perceived by some to recontextualize or stylize the traditional Filipino dish La Paz Batchoy in a way that seemed disconnected from its culinary and cultural roots. The issue brings to light the challenges present between artistic reinterpretation and cultural authenticity, especially when everyday symbols of heritage are reimagined in art spaces, raising valuable questions about representation, respect, and accessibility in the arts.
